OR

Eliminate the Jack Daniels Distillery and the trip will be reduced to 4 days and 1574 miles.

Wednesday's route is down RT 41—supposed to be somewhat scenic but the goal is to balance miles between Day 1 and Day 2 with arrival in Birmingham on Day 2 during daylight hours with enough time to freshen up and have a nice sit down dinner and a relaxing evening.

Day 2's route has some very twisty roads and is also supposed to be scenic.

Day 3, visit the Barber museum and get to Lynchberg, TN.

Day 4, tour Jack Daniels Distillery and get some miles through some scenic country and balance off the miles for the trip home on Day 5.

I picked areas to stop that have a number of Hotels ranging from Super 8 to Hampton Inn. I just chose that particular hotel as a landmark for mapping purposes.
