The Junebug Boogie itself is a three day event at "Scooters and Hooters Bar" in Cookeville, Tn. They will have a number of different bands, vendors and plenty of sights to see. These include the Mr. and Mrs. Junebug Contest, Lap Dance Competition, Wet T-shirt competition and the world famous topless hula hoop contest. All this for only $30. Check out the following link for more info: http://www.junebugboogie.com/ For lodging there are a few options. I have property less than half a mile away from the Boogie with a camper with a bathroom on it. This can sleep four or more depending on how well you want to get to know your fellow bikers ;-). There are also a few motel choices at reasonable rates 15 mins away. Tent camping on my property is another available option. We ride down Thursday 6/21. It will be mostly highway through Indiana until we get into Kentucky then we get on some nice backroads. We'll go through Dale Hollow State Park as we cross over into Tennessee stopping just for a bit. Friday and Saturday we ride. I've got a few real nice rides lined up and places to go see in both Tennessee and also Kentucky. If you don't like beautiful scenery and lots of twisties this ride isn't for you. We can check out the Boogie in the evenings or just hang out by a bon fire. It's going to be very laid back. You don't want to ride? No problem. Hang out at the camper or go over to the Boogie. They party all day over there. Completely up to you.
